Our goal to continually increase the quality and internationality has been reached for the vast majority of candidates. However, only the 600 most qualified young researchers can be given the opportunity to enrich and share in the unique atmosphere of the Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings. The Nobel Laureates welcome the outstanding qualifications of the applicants and the great diversity of nationalities represented. We are pleased to inform you that the scientific review panel has selected 6 out of 10 of your applicants to participate in the meeting...

...The following 4 candidates have unfortunately not been selected for the meeting:
